Committee	Date & Time
Campus Physical Planning Committee	12/5/2014

II. Topics Discussed at committee meetings:

- New Verizon Cell Towers and Equipment locations.
- The Golden Eagle Express Signage.
- Nongshim Mascot Sculpture.
- Cal State L.A. Signage at the Welcome Center
- Miscellaneous updates on projects and information on them.

III. Recommendations:

Verizon Cell Towers:

- These towers were approved by the committee. They are said to be located on the rooftop of the JFK Library North and South. They will not affect students in any negative way; only give better reception to Verizon Wireless users. A topic that was discussed on this subject was where the money from this lease going. The committee wanted to know whether the library was going to receive any kind of payment because the Verizon towers will be on that building. Mr. Jacobs said he will ask, try to find out and later get back to us.

Golden Eagle Express Signage:

- The committee approved the signage with a recommendation to make it clearer that this is a convenience store. The committee feels that "Express" does not define that it is a convenience store. However, because the name is already decided on I suggest to simply add some type of vinyl advertisement or signage on the windows.

Nongshim Mascot Sculpture:

- The Nongshim Mascot Sculpture has tentative approval with a recommendation to be relocated to the Nongshim Lab. The committee feels that this is a type of advertisement and if it outside, there would be a maintenance issue.

- The signage was approved, with a recommendation to also add some type of signage to clarify that the building it's self is the Welcome Center. There was discussion of possibly adding vinyl letters on the windows or something installed on the stucco.

Updates and Information on Projects:

- Library Café: This café will be located on the North East corner of the library first floor, where there currently is a computer lab. The café will not take the location of any program or majorly impact the current student environment. The project is being push along.
- Library Trash: With the Library topic being open I brought up the issue of the trash in the library already being bad, particularly during finals when it is mostly used. Adding the café would mostly likely amplify that issue. Dana Twedell, Director of Facilities Services, is a part of the committee so he said he was going to resolve the litter issue for finals weeks and when the café is opened.
- New Construction: A member of our committee asked whether there is going to be new construction on the campus possibly the Administration building. Megan Smith, Principal University Planner/Project Manager for Cal State L.A. on behalf of the CSU Chancellor's Office, clarified that as of right now we will not having any new construction on our campus. The money we are receiving from the Campus Capital Outlay for 2015 - 2016 will all go towards campus maintenance. On our campus that means that money would go to the electrical outlay and the campus chiller. Unfortunately the money we receive from the CSU will not even be enough to fully renovate and maintain our campus so the possibility of new construction is very slim.
- Smart Classrooms: The president is pushing for three (3) new smart classrooms two which will be in Salazar Hall and one in Fine Arts. These smart classrooms are said to be finished by Fall 2015.
