Faculty Policy Committee	11/6/2014 11:40 – 1:20 PM

II. Topics Discussed at committee meetings:

The topics discussed at today's committee meeting is as follows:
 Report from the Executive Committee Liaison: She and the executive committee she is working with is still revising chapters 4 and 5 for semester conversion. The committee is also echo our suggestion about the Faculty Visioning Report, discussed in the previous Committee Report.
 There is nothing currently in the Academic Senate.
 Joint Appointments: there was discussion about the Honor's College, and how they don't have joint appointments. There are joint appointments in the process of being formed in different colleges and departments to summarize responsibilities.
 Affiliate Status: On the job advertisements, it says "opportunity," which allows possible staff members to become affiliated in a possible diverse areas of study. The committee feels as if the word "opportunity" gives too much entitlement, when in essence, it might not. Opportunity gives them the chance, not the guarantee for the job.
 Faculty Workload: The current policy document that is being formed by the FPC is still being revised. We now added that faculty has a maximum of 80 percent instruction, and they can divide the rest however they please, while still combining research and other school responsibilities, such as advisement, committee members, and field work.
 This was the end of our meeting.

III. Recommendations:

None.
