Additional Questions to Explore:

I would be interested to hear from everyone if they have similar rules about the cumulative GPA. Does anyone count transferred in units in the cumulative GPA that they look at for eligibility?

What may be even more interesting is when and if you have graduate students running for AS Exec. Offices (especially a Presidency) or international students no? In the past, the latter has proved problematic for us in terms of taxes applied to international students who are appointed into AS officer roles since it's a protracted process in working with our Accounting/Finance team on their stipend allocations.
