What previous experience have you had in the area in which you are applying for?

As a current Television, Film, and Media student I have single-handedly managed numerous short films and wholeheartedly understand the concepts of teamwork and time management. It is imperative that both of these qualities cannot be overlooked. In the case of a three-day short film I helped produce, with a team of twelve students and thirteen different actors, I was able to oversee the entire workflow of my peers. Not only did I assist in coordinating the entire venue, budget, and timeline of the short film, but I had also managed to fully embrace the mistakes made along the way. Furthermore, I am currently a moderator on a discussion platform for a Canadian vendor which sells goods to both local and overseas customers. I have been tasked to create descriptions for upcoming products and organize events such as giveaways and discussions.

State briefly why are you are applying and/or are interested in this position

I am applying mainly because I would love to be of assistance to my university. Since I believe that education is absolutely paramount, I want each and every student to feel safe and prideful within this campus. There is no better way for me to reach out and participate in the CSULA community, than by joining the ASI committee to promote a healthy growing experience for all.

What do you feel are some of the major problems facing the students of Cal State LA?

It is relatively hard to gauge major problems Cal State LA students are facing, because each student deals with different dilemmas. Although I do not speak on behalf of every student, I personally feel that there are two significant concerns: proper communication and making friends. Multiple occasions have arisen when my peers notify me about certain events, opportunities, or finding support. There hasn't been a suitable way of getting easily accessible information to students quickly and efficiently. I seemingly find out a lot about Cal State LA resources merely by word-of-mouth. There needs to be a dedicated platform encouraging students to learn more about what the campus has to offer. The other pivotal concern is making friends. Speaking from my personal experience, it is extremely frustrating to collaborate, and in turn, reach out to other students. There is no primary fault, but I believe this is due to how local the school is to many. By this virtue, students tend to learn and immediately leave afterwards. It is quite cumbersome to make new friends, but I sincerely hope that it is much easier now that everyone is online.
