J. Funding Policy 204 Revisions

Amanda: Based on the conversation had last finance meeting changes were made like adding funding for 2 meetings per semester and describing what a meeting is. Marketing supplies was also expanded.

Arwa: Agrees and likes the changes.

Jazmin: Has concerns that clubs will have private events disguised as meetings as that section was deleted.

Amanda: Lets them know that it does state early in the policy that anything funded as to be open to all students.

Arwa: Suggests that they could have a further discussion about marketing as that could be a way clubs can be “exclusive”.

Barnaby: States that issues of marketing have come up before where clubs only advertise to club members even though they’re open to all. Believes it’s a case-to-case situation where it depends on the situation.

Jeffry: Suggests that when students request funding the approval for their event to be posted for more students to see it.

Barnaby: Adds that a great place to post it would be the Nest as that would mean it’s available to all students.

Jocelyn: Agrees but also states that not everyone checks digital platforms all the time some prefer physical advertisements.

Erick: Suggests that on slack a short video can be posted that details an event and/or a club.

Arwa: Some organizations don’t have the capacity to advertise as much as other orgs.

Ashley: Wants to know if there is a way that they can suggest students not to post their events on Instagram as only people who follow the account will see it even though it is accessible to everyone.

Dena: Suggests that ASI posts it on their Instagram where it says its funded by the Finance Committee, so it serves a dual purpose.

Erick: Adds that they can create a highlight.

Arwa: States that sometimes it’s difficult to contact the marketing team and get something published. If it were to get approved to do marketing, then suggest that they set up specific dates for those clubs to use ASI to advertise their events.

Dena: Lets them know if in the post they tag ASI the algorithm will show up on their feed.

Ashely: Asked if the sub-slack is launched would the marketing team oversee it.

Jeffry: Believes that marketing would oversee branding but in terms of managing it would be people like the board.

L. RSO Banking Policy

Amanda: Explains how the policy is how they manage club banking.

Jeffry: Asked if they can further elaborate the recoverable cost.

Barnaby: Responds stating Recoverable cost is a term used by the CSU as all clubs fall under the university and must be recognized by the university. ASI just became in charge of club banking as it was previously the university’s responsibility. Banking with ASI is free for students and the university but it is considered a recoverable cost, but they are working with the university to see which specific items are recoverable costs. It is basically a note that RSO banking is an exchange of goods.

Carlos: Explains how campus’ main focus is to document the main activity like endurance cost, but they can’t countify it to a specific thing, so the campus had to come up with some type of mythology. They came up with a service to sort of document all these things.

Dena: While looking at the section account balances, she had a question whether the whole account needed to be renewed and pointed out that clubs might get into the negative because they underestimated the total cost, but some might get reimbursement which would bring them back in the positives.

Amanada: Responds and explains how some clubs have gone into the negative, but they have confirmed they are receiving reimbursement.

Dena: Would like for clubs to not be discouraged to ask for help or reimbursement because they are in the negative. Also want something to be added where they know once they hit the negatives, they can go to the VP and work something out.

Amanda: Explains how ASI funding does not go into their bank accounts.

Jeffry: Asked if funding not going into their bank accounts is written.

Amanda: Responded that it is not written down, but it is explained to them and should not mix since they are two different processes.

Jeffry: Believes it should be clarified a bit as it can be confusing to students.

Dena: Inaudible

Jeffry: Asked if they could go into more detail about section 32

Amanda: That section is added as it applies to both banking a funding and the only difference is if you are using funds from your own banking account you can use it to pay registration fees

Offered By:	Arwa Hammad	Seconded by:	Genesis Nuyens

Dena: Shows and explain the 26-27 budget. Goes over fee revenue. States that student fees are still one million. Goes over other revenue

Jeffry: Asked a question regarding the endowment grows year by year

Dena: Responded no and explains how ASI has an endowment that was established years ago which only served 3 students so ASI reallocated towards leadership so it can serve more students. Goes over personal expenses. Explains how staff training budget is divided in half and how ASI is on its own payroll. Goes over corporate expenses. Let's them know it did increase. Wants them to know that they are working with the university and it might go up or down. Goes over student government. A 3% increase was made to the GIAs.

Cynthia: Wanted to know if there is a potential to keep funding travel until GIA increases.

Jeffry: Suggest that they put together a CHES impact report to show the impact that CHES had.

Dena: Agrees with that idea. Goes over Students and university expenses. Goes over budget summary. Adding that reserves are not where they should be

B. RSO Survey Draft

Erick: Goes over the draft and the questions that are going to be put on it. Wants feedback or suggestions from the committee.

Jeffry: Asked for the first question if they are open ended or on a scale.

Amanda: Responded that they are open ended.

Jeffry: Suggests the question asking their satisfaction rate could be on a scale as it's easier to see visually and would give them more time to answer other questions.

Fabi: Suggests they add leadership development to one of the questions and define exempt status in the question.

Cynthia: Suggests they quantify question 4 as is very broad.

Jeffry: Agrees and adds that they can specify it to focus of funding as the previous question talks about banking.

Jocelyne: Agrees and adds that they can specify what type of services students want to see or need help with.

Jeff: Suggests that they can add the question if they attended ASI funding workshops to see if workshops are helpful.

Dena: Was wondering if it was true that students must go to a workshop if they want to ask for funding.

Amanda: Replied not the in-person ones.

V. Information Items

A. February 2026 Financials

Dena: As if January 28 the actuals column was added. Goes over other sources of revenue and personal expenses. Goes over corporate expenses and student government. VI. Reports

A. Committee Members

Jeffry: Need to confirm with River but believe that the town hall will be April 16. It will be like the one in fall. Shared government has talked about strategic planning, academic experiences, and general ASI operations. Also wants to consult with Barnaby to mention the fee increase but does not want to make it all about the fee increase.

Arwa: Spoke with a representative from Humboldt at CHESS and thought the way they do their budgeting was unique and interesting. Wanted to make it a discussion item. Explains to the committee how their budget works over there.

Jeffry: Likes the idea and thinks that the way ASI is budgeting now is good but believe some of the procedures can be opened.

Arwa: Explained further their process.

Dena: Believes that they do a similar process as them but on a smaller scale.

B. Advisors

Barnaby: Stated that he sent out an email with a link to review to fee increase and survey that has them list their priorities. Wants them to turn it in before April 8th. So they can start planning if the fee passes on how to use the new funds and suggest they could bring in budget proposals.

Dena: Lets them know that there is a car show coming up on April 25th as well as family dinner in fall and Eddie fest.

Fabi: Reminded everyone that the application for nominations for golden eagle awards are up.

Gennesis: Asked if it is biased on how many nominations they receive.

Fabi: Responded that it's not based on the number of nominations but the substance of the nomination.

VII. Adjournment
